Anson joined Chambers in 2021 following the successful completion of her pupillage. She is a member of the Attorney General's Junior Junior Scheme.

During pupillage, Anson saw a broad range of general commercial, pensions, financial services and construction work, both in litigation and arbitration. She was awarded joint first prize in the Society of Construction Law Hudson Prize 2019 for the essay entitled 'Triple Point Technologies – pointing to confusion'.

Anson was awarded a full-ride merit-based scholarship, the Swire Scholarship, for her undergraduate degree, and graduated from the University of Oxford with a Double First in Jurisprudence. She then achieved a Distinction on the BCL at Oxford. During her studies, Anson represented the University of Oxford twice in international moots, and won the Herbert Smith Freehills Oxford Disability Mooting Championship 2017. She was a research assistant to Professor Timothy Endicott and contributed to comparative law reports that were submitted to the US Supreme Court, as organised by Oxford Pro Bono Publico.

Prior to starting the BPTC, Anson worked in the Legal Office of the UN World Food Programme in Rome.

For the BPTC, Anson was awarded the most prestigious scholarship at Gray's Inn, the Bedingfield Scholarship, and an Advocacy Award for aptitude in advocacy from BPP University. She was called to the Bar by Gray's Inn in 2019.

Testimonials

“She did an excellent job in the recent instructions I sent her. It was obvious she fully understood the law and the procedure involved. ... She achieved an excellent result.

Additionally she displayed a great deal of maturity, not expected of someone just starting her career and analysed the issues in her instructions and reported back to me of any likely issues that could arise at the hearing. This enabled me to report back to my client and meant that there would be no surprises.”
