Carin takes instructions in a broad range of personal injury cases including accidents at work, road traffic accidents, mesothelioma claims, accidents involving animals, and claims under the Highways Act 1989 and the OLA 1957. Carin also has experience of led work in high value catastrophic brain and spinal injury cases.

Carin has acted for claimants appealing the quantum of their awards from the Criminal Injuries Compensation Authority. She has experience of acting for those who have witnessed a violent attack on a loved one, suffering psychiatric injury as a result, and those who have been bereaved by a violent crime.

Clinical Negligence

Carin is currently ranked as a Leading Junior (tier 3) In Clinical Negligence in Legal 500. She acts for both Claimants and Defendants in clinical negligence cases. She has experience of claims brought under the Fatal Accidents Act 1976 and has been instructed to advise on liability and quantum in claims arising from various circumstances including the following:

- Contraction of MRSA on an obstetrics ward
- Complications and poor outcomes in plastic surgery
- Delayed diagnosis of cancers (resulting in reduced life expectancy) and life-threatening medical conditions including stroke
- Failures to properly consent patients for surgeries including abdominoplasty and endometrial ablation (resulting in the loss of the ability to bear children)
- Failure to properly manage wound sites (resulting in infection and protracted recovery) and to prevent the development of pressure sores (in hospital and care home settings)
- Failure to properly manage treatment of patients with mental health issues and suicidal ideation (resulting in death)
- Falls in hospital (resulting in various injuries, including, in one instance, a fatal haematoma)
- Misdiagnoses
- Unnecessary surgeries including removal cannulated screws from a hip joint in a patient with SUFE

Carin regularly appears at trial, CCMCs, application hearings, infant settlement approval hearings, joint settlement meetings, and at inquests with a clinical negligence element. She also has experience of acting for parties at mediation of clinical negligence disputes. Carin also has experience of led work in high value clinical injury cases.

Professional Discipline

Carin acts for individuals and regulators in professional discipline matters involving healthcare practitioners.

Carin was recently instructed as a junior in a 3 month hearing before the Medical Practitioners Tribunal Service, acting for a doctor facing over 40 allegations.

Travel and International Injury Law

Carin is ranked in Band 3 in Travel: International Personal Injury in Chambers and Partners. She edits the 'Accidents Abroad' Chapter for the APIL Personal Injury looseleaf.

Carin has a busy travel and cross-border practice and is regularly instructed in injury claims with a foreign element. She acts for both Claimants and Defendants.

and Respondents.

In a recent appeal concerning a contested diagnosis of Autism Spectrum Disorder and a number of proposed education and health provisions to be added to the Appellant's EHC plan, Carin was delighted to get a positive result for her client after the hearing. Carin's instructing solicitor described her performance as follows:

"Carin's preparation prior to the hearing was meticulous and detailed; it included a level of research that left the tribunal panel in no doubt that all recommendations sought should be ordered. As a result of the hearing, the client secured extensive and comprehensive education and social care provision in his EHC plan. This would not have been possible were it not for Carin's strong advocacy skills and ability to understand complex issues with ease. I would not hesitate to recommend her and look forward to working with her again."

Court of Protection

Carin has a busy Court of Protection practice. She has a particular interest in cases involving serious medical treatment, pregnancy, and healthcare provision generally.

Carin regularly appears in the Court of Protection in respect of Section 21A and Section 16 matters. In this context, she has acted for the Official Solicitor, local authorities, and family members. Carin has also represented local authorities and family members in cases involving contested applications to revoke LPAs.

Recently, Carin acted as a junior in a complex matter involving a patient detained under Section 3 of the MHA 1983 which was heard pursuant to the High Court's inherent jurisdiction.

Public Law

Carin is keen to expand her public law practice. She has a particular interest in judicial reviews involving healthcare and patient safety.

Inquests

Carin has a busy inquest practice, with a particular focus on inquests with a healthcare or personal injury element. She represents a range of Interested Persons including families, Trusts, and medical practitioners.

Carin has experience of Article 2 inquests, with and without a jury, and regularly appears in complex inquests involving multiple interested parties. She has been instructed in inquests considering a range of issues including:

- Paramedic treatment and emergency treatment
- Delayed medical treatment and diagnosis
- Complications arising from surgery
